Your right to cancel

Please see front page to see if this section applies to this contract. If it does:

For contracts for supply of goods, or goods and a service

You have a right to cancel this contract without giving any reason. The cancellation period starts when we enter into a contract with you and will end 14 days after you have taken possession of the goods we are supplying you as part of our contract.

For contracts for the supply of a service only

You have a right to cancel this contract without giving any reason. The cancellation period starts when we enter a contract with you and will end 14 days starting the day after we enter the contract.

In order to exercise your right to cancel you must inform us of your decision by a clear statement (e.g. a phone call, letter sent by post, fax or email). You may use the cancellation form, at the bottom of this page, but you don't have to.

Cancellation is only effective if you send your communication (or telephone us) before the cancellation period has expired.

Effects of cancellation

If you cancel this contract, we will reimburse you all that you have paid us, subject to certain possible deductions set out below. However, once we have delivered the goods, you may want us to start work straight away. To do this we will need a specific request from you because of the cancellation period; this will mean you will still have a right to cancel but:

- you will have to pay our labour costs for the work that we have done up to the point when you inform us of your decision to cancel
- we will not collect or remove any goods that we have installed, unless we have offered to do so
- you may remove the goods yourself and return them to us at the above address and at your own expense within 14 days of informing us of your decision to cancel, unless this was offered by us
- we may reduce any reimbursement to take account of the loss in value of the goods caused by any handling by you

For service only contracts, you may want us to start work straight away. To do this we will require a specific request from you because of the cancellation period; this will mean you will have a right to cancel, but

- you will have to pay our labour costs for the work we have done up to the point when you inform us of your decision to cancel
- you will lose your right to cancel the contract that has been performed fully within the cancellation period

We will make the reimbursement without undue delay, and not later than:

- (a) 14 days after the day that we received the goods that we supplied back from you, or
- (b) (if earlier) 14 days after the day you provide evidence that you have returned the goods, or
- (c) if there were no goods supplied or if there were goods and we offered to collect them, 14 days after the day on which we are informed about your decision to cancel this contract.

We will make the reimbursement using the same means of payment as you used for the initial transaction, unless you have expressly agreed otherwise; in any event, you will not incur any fees as a result of the reimbursement.

Further practical advice regarding your right to cancel can be found at www.trustmark.org.uk/consumers/essential-advice
